Aus dem Klappentext:

Bavarian magician Alexander de Cova has finally released his work on the thumbtip. This is like nothing you have ever seen before. His innovative handling of this tool will astound you.

First Alex performs and explains three original routines, each of which is not only a lesson in the use of a thumbtip, but a world class effect to boot. Finally he explains his deceptively simple Three Point Theory and discusses in depth the logic, reasons and methods, that will change how you see the thumbtip.

ROSEDICTION

In this presentation for platform or stage a romantic prediction leaves the audience both mystified and charmed.

THE SCOTTISH PURSE

Great fun as a spectator tries to draw your portrait, only to find the artwork vanishes from under their nose!
