In a mentalism routine your audience can see you place the prediction inside an empty box. After asking for random information from your audience members, the prediction can be tipped out at fingertips, before being read out loud by a spectator.

- The card is tipped out at fingertips making the retention of vision incredibly strong and deceptive.
- The box is only half the size of a deck of cards!
- The box is instantly empty and clear!
- The contents can be changed/customized in three minutes!
- You can place objects in the box and clearly tip them out!

As well as the thinking behind Mystery Solved, the accompanying DVD which was shot on location within London's Shard, provides a wealth of information including David's card routine guest star - Peter Turner describes devious ways to use Mystery Solved in mentalism routines.
