Effect

A signed card, having been placed back into the center of the pack numerous times, continuously makes its way back to the top of the pack, seemingly of its own accord!

For a finale, you propose a 'test conditions' experiment to test the cards seemingly unbound desire to reside atop the deck. You display the card case - it has a large two inch hole cut from the front of it. The signed card is placed again into the of the deck. The case is then placed into the case and the flaps are closed. The top of the deck can be clearly monitored through the hole in the case.

Despite these 'sleight of hand proof' conditions, you give the case a brief shake and the assembled masses witness, through the large two inch hole, the signed card visibly re-materialize once again on top of the deck!

The case is opened and the cards removed. Sure enough - this was no illusion - the signed card is genuinely back on top of the pack. AND THE CARD CASE CAN BE FULLY EXAMINED!
