From your pocket, you remove your phone and a deck of playing cards. A transparent phone case is protecting your phone. Inside, on the back of the case, they can see some everyday items, perhaps a bill, train ticket, receipt, etc., and... one playing card!

Now, the phone is placed aside, because it's time for a card trick. Have ANY card selected and signed - heck, you can even do any favorite card trick with a signed and selected card! When you think it is time to hit them, you point to the card inside/under your phone case...

You take the phone, open up the case, take the phone out and place it aside. You are now holding the transparent case and inside is one card only... a signed card... a card signed... by your spectator!! Hand out the card for examination or let them keep it as a souvenir of this impossible moment!

STASH by Jasper Jongejans is a GREAT and very strong piece of magic using an object that everybody carries around today:
