The performer freely shows two sets of ESP cards. One set has red symbols and a red back design. The other set has blue symbols with blue back design.

The cards from one set are spread apart from each other with faces upwards. The other set is held faces downwards and shuffled by the performer.

A spectator is shown each of these face-down cards one by one and asked to guess which symbol is might have on its face. After each guess has been made the face-down card is openly placed on the top of the chosen symbol.

When the five pairs of cards are turned over they are FOUND TO MATCH perfectly!!!
