Umschlagtext:

Jerry Mentzer has written numerous books of magic including five "all card" books, the well-known 'Card Cavalcade series'. That series of books contained some of the finest new card magic of the day. 'Card File' is the largest single collection of card magic so far by the author. 74 tricks, moves and ideas. 237 pages, profusely illustrated with clear line drawings. 'Card File' emphasizes complete effects as opposed to moves, and sleights. Where moves and sleights are described, they are used in the effects described. The card magic ranges from very easy, nearly selfworking tricks throughout the gamut of tricks requiring standard skills, to advanced magic with requires skills which will be new to most readers.

[...] In addition to the author's own tricks and routines, many other clever card magicians have also contributed to the book.
