Purple Deck Directions

The Effect: You show a deck with no faces. You offer to show how a magician prints cards. A spectator names any card in the deck. Let's say the 7 of Spades. Fanning the deck towards you, remove four blank cards and show them to the audience. The four blank cards magically turn into the four 7's! Waving the 7's over the deck, a face now appears on every card in the deck. The freshly printed deck is then handed out to the crisply fried audience!

The Performance: Blank-faced card at the face of the deck. Reverse fan to show all blank. Hindu shuffle to again show every card is blank. Ask the spectator to name a card. The 7 of spades for example. Spread the deck, faces towards you, remove the blank face card and place it face down on the table. On top of that place the 7 of spades face down, then 2 of the other 7's.

Table the deck face down. Pick up the tabled packet of 7's, turn them face-up and do a Flushtstration Count placing the final card (the blank-facer) at the bottom of the packet of cards. Take the top 2 cards in your right hand, the bottom 2 cards in your left hand. Rub the cards together then replace the left hand cards ABOVE the right hand cards.

Turn the packet face-up and do an Elmsley Count to show four 7's have appeared. Wave the face-up 7's over the deck, then flip the deck face-up and spread it across the table to reveal a face has printed itself on every card! The deck can be handed out for inspection while you drop the blank-facer into your pocket and drop the remaining 7's onto the deck.
