SCREW-IN TYPE ROPE GIMMICKS

Long off the market we are delighted to re-introduce this popular accessory item.

Each set of gimmicks consists of two turned brass parts, which fasten together with a screw fitting.

Use regular magician's rope, this has a soft weave and a natural hollow centre. Push the gimmicks into the ends of a length of rope (4 ft. or 5 ft. long) the male and female ends of course are outwards.

Put a stitch through the rope and through the hole in the gimmick to hold each secure.

Now work a little adhesive, Copydex or, better still, P.V.A., into the rope, - gimmick should be completely inside the rope.

Hang up the ropes and allow them to dry. Now before they harden completely, with a sharp pair of scissors carefully trim the rope so that the female portion of the gimmick is flush, and the male portion, (the screw part) protrudes just slightly.

If you are "worried" about the gimmicks showing at all, by all means use a little ordinary white Emulsion Paint on the ends however, we have never found this to be necessary.
