“The classic cut-strip force had a flaw – it no longer does! This will fool you badly: imagine how it will destroy laymen!”

A paper sleeve depicting the backs of several playing cards is shown. Five regular cards are placed into a small wallet.

The spectator cuts through one of these cards (- free choice). The two pieces are waived over the wallet, then the cut off is placed in full view on the table.

When the cards are removed from the wallet one is seen to be cut in half: this is the Voodoo influence. The two pieces of paper from the table are unfolded to reveal that your helper has cut thru the Four of clubs. When the real card is revealed it is the Four of clubs as well.

You receive enough material for at least 15 performances but it would be easy to copy additional sheets for your personal use.

You will need to provide the regular cards (including the one that appears to have been cut)
