A visual manifestation of food or drink will hail you as a god in some cultures. You've probably heard a story of a man multiplying fishes and bread. Through a desire to see something like this become a physical reality, I have laboured out a way to achieve this and today I bring you Canz. Upon learning the method, you will be able to multiply a real canned drink into three real, unopened canned drinks, full of liquid, then offer your onlookers one to keep.
