This listing is for a new, brass Buddha Boston Box. Make coins vanish or penetrate through a brass box. Examinable. Whether you are new to coin magic and just now considering your choice for coin boxes, or if you are a seasoned professional, this is an opportunity to own what many call the best coin box on the market.

Buddha Coin Boxes are used by some of the top coin magicians in the world, and are called the most attractive and functional boxes available. If you are familiar with Okito/Boston Box moves, you can probably see how the curved sides of the Buddha Box will make those moves almost automatic!

The main difference between an Okito Box and the Boston version, is you can remove the lid on the Boston Box and show it still full of coins, even after you have stolen the real coins away. The boxes in the Buddha line all appear the same and can be exchanged for one another.
