A small pay envelope is your collateral. The spectator signs, folds, and paperclips the bill assuring the use of NO DUPLICATES. The envelope is waved over the bill and the bill vanishes! Open the envelope, a nest of FIVE! The smallest inner envelope is opened by the spectator and inside is their signed bill!

Emergency Cash is an evolutionary turning point for magic's most intriguing plot, a borrowed object to impossible location. The routine and device work together weaving strict conditions and open handling.
