The Magician has two cards in his pocket. The pocket is shown otherwise empty.

A spectator is invited to "physically" select either card without looking at the card's face. Then the spectator mentally selects and names any card.

The Magician explains that this is an experiment in physical and mental abilities.

He states that he knew they would pick this card.

The chosen card is turned face up to reveal a prediction:

"THIS IS THE CARD YOU WILL PICK PHYSICALLY".
