he magician/mentalistic opens the demonstration by showing how the two plastic cards supplied can be used to generate any one of the 52 possible playing cards. Handing the two cards to the participant they flip and turn the cards sight unseen by the performer before locking one singular playing card in mind.

Without ever needing to take the cards back and without ever needing to see them, the magician/mentalistic already knows the exact thoughts that are in the participants mind and is all set to reveal their thought of card. Better still, this can be done with multiple participants allowing the performer to reveal up to three different playing cards in any one performance.
