Pet Store Profile by Graeme Shaw, Michael Murray

One of the all-time greatest packet tricks has finally been updated and improved for a more universally friendly audience!

Under the guise of finding the ideal pet for your spectator, several cards are displayed with images of super cute pets, and one less-than-attractive animal. The spectator is asked to choose one at random from the group. Things seem to have gone wrong for the magician when the ugly pet is found amongst the discarded cards. The room explodes with laughter when they finally reveal their ideal furry friend!
