The Routine Magic Is Finally Ready For!
by John Patry, Jr.

The magician displays a six inch length of rope and discusses what you could do with a piece of rope that size. Not much is the obvious answer; not much until the magician visibly stretches the six inch piece to SIX FEET! The rope is cut into two separate pieces by the razor sharp fingers of the magician. The two pieces are tied together, leaving the possibility of two endings:

1) the knot visibly pops off the rope for a puzzling yet comical ending,

or

2) the knot disappears and leaves one restored rope.
